

Why does the NAB feel threatened by XM? Are they threatened by competition? Maybe if the NAB would make the information they provide more relevant and the programming of a better quality, less people would turn away from them.